Welcome!

I am delighted to welcome you to the 141st Philadelphia Charity Ball. Your attendance and participation testify that you share the vision of continuing the mission established by our beloved organization over 141 years ago. That is, to inspire and encourage philanthropy in young people and to raise funds for worthy charities. The Ball tonight, a wonderful and longstanding Philadelphia tradition, exemplifies the charitable spirit of giving back to our community by the young ladies and gentlemen. Let us all be inspired to follow the lead of these courageous and benevolent young people, leaders among their peers, as they continue to choose a life in which philanthropy plays a large part.

Once again, this year's beneficiary is Special Olympics Pennsylvania. In May 1970, its first-ever competition was held with only 135 athletes participating in a small track and field competition at West Chester University. Now, in its 51st year, Special Olympics Pennsylvania has flourished, growing into an organization that trains 16,000 athletes who compete in 21 Olympic-type sports annually at over 300 local, sectional and state level competitions. The sports that Special Olympics Pennsylvania provides for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, give the athletes continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy, and participate in a sharing of gifts, skills and friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes, and the community. All training and competition opportunities are provided free of charge to the athletes and their families, enabling everyone to experience the benefits of Special Olympics that extend well beyond the playing field. Notably, the Philadelphia Charity Ball wholeheartedly pledges its support of "The Inclusion Revolution", a campaign launched by Special Olympics "to end discrimination against people with intellectual disabilities and to create a fully inclusive world".

I would like to express my deep gratitude to so many people whose hard work and unrelentless dedication to the success of this Ball does not go unnoticed. I would especially like to thank this year's debutantes, young mens committee members and their families whose involvement and generosity is greatly appreciated, the ongoing efforts of our supportive and enthusiastic Board of Directors whose commitment and wisdom throughout the year make the Ball a huge success and our talented, creative Executive Director, Lydia Butcher, without whose incredible devotion and extraordinary passion this Ball could not take place. Finally, I would like to acknowledge and thank all the sponsors and guests here tonight. May you continue to guide and inspire the young people here to become future philanthropic leaders, while continuing to build history as part of this Philadelphia tradition.

Anne Mahoney

Our Mission

The mission of the Philadelphia Charity Ball is two-fold: to raise funds for non-profit organizations focused on youth in Philadelphia, and to inspire the young people of Philadelphia to make philanthropy a central part of their lives.

The Philadelphia Charity Ball is a tradition that dates back to 1881. It is a formal celebration and gathering that has raised millions of dollars for a variety of worthwhile charities over the years. Each year the Ball endeavors to build on and continue this tradition. For the first century, the beneficiaries of the Ball were the Philadelphia hospitals and the results of these events are evident throughout our local hospital system.

The Philadelphia Charity Ball is part of the fabric of the history of Philadelphia. Many past participants have gone on to assume positions in Philadelphia area charitable organizations.
